

IWV Supports The Protection of Women and Girls in Sports Act

September 24, 2020

Dear Senators,

Independent Women's Voice, which fights for policies that enhance people's freedom, opportunities, and well-being, is proud to support the Protection of Women and Girls in Sports Act, sponsored by Senator Kelly Loeffler, which would help ensure that female athletes are able to compete on a level playing field.

Women's sports have made tremendous progress since the enactment of Title IX in 1972. Yet a recent Supreme Court ruling, Bostock v. Clayton County, undermines and jeopardizes this progress by calling the legality of sex-specific athletic teams into question.

Discrimination against transgender athletes or any individuals shouldn't be tolerated under any circumstances. But forcing female athletes to compete against biological males is discriminatory against women.

There are biological differences between men and women that make competition between the two unfair. In fact, according to Eric Vilain, a professor of human genetics at UCLA, there is a "10 to 12 percent difference between male and female athletic performance."

If women are forced to compete with and against men, they will miss out on valuable opportunities. Not only is this unfair, it defeats the purpose of Title IX.

IWV is proud to support the Protection of Women and Girls in Sports Act and thanks Senator Loeffler for her leadership on this important issue. We urge all Senators to work toward the bill's swift passage and protect the rights of women and girls to compete on a level playing field.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Hadley Heath Manning".

Hadley Heath Manning

Director of Policy

Independent Women's Voice